

The Virginia Porcelain Artists featuring hand painted china will be holding their state show at P. Buckley Moss Museum on lucky Friday, April 13th and Saturday, April 14th from 9 AM to 4 PM. With a theme of the, "Porcelain Gardens," the Museum will be abloom with fresh, colorful creations of flowers to match the splendor of spring all around us.

After a hot summer many Virginia painters are fast at work learning and painting as much as possible to heighten your enjoyment of displays among the paintings of artist P. Buckley Moss. Guest Artist, Mary Gosden comes from New York to demonstrate, teach and exhibit her unique architecturally inspired paintings on porcelain. Porcelain Dolls by Judi will share their "tea time" with visitors. The "Porcelain Gardens" are a treat that will amaze you. A joy for young and old alike don't miss these artisans at work.

This will be the last regional show in this area. Next year the show will take place in Richmond, so please don't miss the opportunity to see this remarkable exhibit. Demos and supplies available. Door prizes to be given. Artisans from Virginia and featured Guest Artist Mary Gosden from New York will be on hand to answer questions and display their work.
